

//FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE//

Contact: Ann Marie Mayuga

314.485.4390

annmarie@ammcommunications.com

Blake Strategic Consulting Expands into Cincinnati

Firm Focuses on Broadband, Emerging Technology, Telecommunications, and Consumer Products Industries

(ST. LOUIS) May 5, 2010 – Blake Strategic Consulting (BSC), a nationally recognized consulting firm focused on business growth and strategic planning for businesses in the broadband, emerging technology, telecommunications and consumer products industries, recently announced its expansion into Cincinnati.

Mary Pat Blake, the company founder and president, is a nationally recognized executive-level strategic and marketing consultant specializing in the broadband, internet, telecommunications, technology / emerging technology and consumer industries. Founded in 2002, Blake Strategic Consulting also has offices located in Milwaukee, and Minneapolis / St. Paul, and has its headquarters located in St. Louis.

“Cincinnati was selected as our next city for expansion because of its well known and strong influence on the consumer products industry, and the thriving number of technology start-ups that are industries where we provide value and experience,” said Blake, BSC president.

“We work with companies throughout the country and internationally, and have found that the talent and creativeness for business innovation in Cincinnati are outstanding. We want to help local businesses target their companies for significant revenue and profit growth,” added Blake.

Founded in 2002 by Mary Pat Blake, president, Blake Strategic Consulting specializes in helping broadband, internet, telecommunications, technology /emerging technology and consumer companies identify competitive advantage and avenues to revenue growth and profitability. The firm has offices located in Cincinnati, Milwaukee, Minneapolis / St. Paul, and St. Louis. For additional information, please visit the company Web site at www.marypatblake.com.

###